Associate Professor of Ophthalmology Oculoplastics, Orbital and Cosmetic Surgery Adam de la Garza, MD, graduated with honors from Wheaton College with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Biblical Studies/Theology. He then received his M.D. from Wake Forest University and completed a state-of-the-art transition program at Spartanburg Regional Medical Center in Spartanburg, S.C. He returned to Wake Forest to receive ophthalmology and graduated with an ASOPRS oculoplastics fellowship from the University of Iowa. In 2011, he received a certificate from the American Council of Ophthalmology. He has been a guest host at numerous meetings, including as a co-instructor for a blepharoplasty course during the annual meeting of the American Academy of Ophthalmology for eight years. During medical school I was attracted to ophthalmology, otolaryngology, oncology, plastic surgery and dermatology. says de la Garza. Fortunately, oculoplasty allows me to continue to enjoy aspects of all these diverse areas. Dr. de la Garza is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and the American Medical Association.
